Xi Jinping's mysterious chess game has achieved the resurrection of Great Japan - Temple of Literature - World Wide Blog - World Wide Reader Network (computer version)

The Empire of Japan was used by Japan from 1936 to 1947, and later changed to the Kingdom of Japan. Due to the defeat in World War II and being controlled by the U.S. military for a long time, the Chinese people contemptuously called it Little Japan. Later, the economy took off. After more than 70 years of Western culture, and then integrated with traditional culture, Japan was born again, and social progress was amazing, and it quickly became a member of a major Western country. I don't know when, the word "small" in front of Japan has basically disappeared. Not only that, Japan has become the idol of young people in the Asia-Pacific region since the 1980s. From science and technology, culture to daily life, Japan is a model of the Westernization of East Asian civilization. I have to say that after the mainland reform, Japan has implemented a large amount of long-term interest-free or low-interest aid to China, which has helped almost all fields. Japan's aid was quite low-key and cultivated many talents, laying the foundation for China's later economic take-off.

In the early 1970s, I don't know which nerve short circuit, the mainland media bombarded: "The revival of Japanese militarism", and three films were released: such as Ah, Navy and Isoroku Yamamoto. However, with Tanaka's visit to China and the establishment of diplomatic relations, the Japanese fever quickly swept the mainland. I have to say that Tanaka followed Nixon and began to be pro-China. Remember this point, and you can understand the following changes.

But Xi obviously doesn't understand the relationship between the United States and Japan. Many Chinese, including Xi Jinping, look down on Little Japan, thinking that she is the "puppet" of the United States or the more unsteasting "lackey". The real reason is that Japan does not have a regular army. In Xi's eyes, the "Self-Defense Forces" can't go to sea at all. It's too cowardly. In Xi Jinping's mysterious chess game that dominates the world, Japan is basically a factor that is not considered. Xi's "rise from the east to the west" refers to the rise of oneself, the decline of the United States, and there is no matter of small Japan.

The anti-civilized desire of the Communist Party of China to dominate the world and establish a global dictatorship has long been exposed to the world. After Xi came to power, he made trouble in the South China Sea, engaged in personality cult, overseas Belt and Road expansion, scientific and technological innovation curve overtaking, Made in China 2025 dominates the world, etc., the slogans have never stopped. Yes, any country has the right to develop. However, the development of the Communist Party of China is exclusive and destructive, and it has exhausted all the bad means. Relying on money, beautiful women's bribing, coupled with all the gangster ways such as cheating and robbery, distorting market laws, destroying world order and other so-called over-limit war modes to deal with the world. The Communist Party of China also uses a cargo embargo or threatens other countries by force at any time. As a close neighbor, Japan has suffered greatly from it. From time to time, it is troubled by various sanctions or being beaten and robbed. As for the slogans such as filling in the words of small Japan, it is even more common and often appear in mainland media and online platforms.

Therefore, in Xi's chessboard, there was no consideration for Japan. Xi's performance is bound to be rebounded by the surrounding countries.

Especially in the South China Sea, that is the lifeline of Japan's foreign trade. As early as 2016, I predicted that the Communist Party of China would be besieged by the whole world, including the awakening of Japan. However, the attitude of the United States determined the timetable for countries to participate in the war and the outcome of the subsequent siege. The Communist Party of China took advantage of the world trade system dominated by the United States to establish a trade system with decades of trade surplus dividends. But there is no gratitude, but revenge, revealing the common face of mainland hillbilly upstarts. In contrast, Japan was dumped with atomic bombs during World War II, but it seems that they are relieved. Thanks to the Americans for giving them true freedom, democracy and respect.

In November 2017, Trump visited China. Xi took advantage of the visit to the Forbidden City and made a big deal with the appearance of the emperor, intending to intimidate Trump and others. In his speech, he asked Li Keqiang to threaten the United States to withdraw from the Asia-Pacific region, withdraw from high-tech and other fields..., so that China can dominate the world... In the future, the United States will only be distributed to the supply of energy, agricultural products, etc. of the Communist Party of China. Trump was furious when he heard this and left the scene immediately. On the return plane, all members of the United States unanimously decided to establish a new national policy for strategic counterattack. Then a trade war broke out immediately. The Communist Party of China is full of confidence, and it is full of the national slogan of fighting big and big win, small fighting and small win, and lying down to win. Then the virus was released and the world was messed up. The Communist Party of China considers itself to be the boss. With the preparation of vaccines and supply chains, all countries should come to worship. During the three years of the epidemic, there have been a large number of articles on WeChat, constantly predicting that the United States will soon be finished, which can prove the arrogance of the Communist Party of China.

Of course, Japan will not be an exception for the powerful Communist Party of China to dominate the world and give national rules. Over the past decade, the Japanese court has been really cautious for fear of offending the Communist Party of China.

At the beginning of Xi Jinping's coming to power, he boasted that he had a mysterious game of chess, which was first passed on in China and then spread overseas. He has pointed out at least more than 240 development directions for China and the world, and all the mysteries are being revealed. The latest great achievement is the revival of Great Japan. Will the "community of human destiny" return to the "Greater East Asia Co-prosperity Circle"? Anyway, this time it's really "up and down from east to west". After the epidemic, the United States, Japan and Europe are not over. After about 30 years of stock market stagnation, the Japanese stock market has outperformed the whole of Asia for nearly two years, and the only one that turned down is China. Follow the United States, eat spicy food, Lao Mao, Deng Gong and people with a little common sense, the truth that they understood early in the morning, this time it was verified again. With the status of a developed country, Japan's passport ranks first in the world. Who would care about Ah Q's batter: "puppet" or "walking dog"?

Biden continued Trump's strategy to besiege China. It was the next time Kishida visited the United States, and the U.S.-Japan alliance appeared again, openly declared war to seek stimulation, and no longer avoided it. This is not a trivial matter. It foreshadows the revival of Japan and the re-entry into the world stage. Japanese, don't you thank Xi Jinping?

Look at the words and deeds of Xinhua News Agency:

"... In a speech in the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, Kishida expressed his loyalty. He declared that Japan has undergone major changes over the years. "We have recovered from a silent ally from the destruction of World War II to a strong and firm ally who looks out to the world."

Well, Japan is back!

According to Kishida, Japan under his leadership has changed its national security strategy. By 2027, Japan's defense budget will be greatly increased to 2% of GDP and "has the ability to fight back". Today, the deterrence provided by our alliance is stronger than ever.

Japan closely follows the United States, saddled in front of the horse behind...

There is a sentence, he said: "China's current external position and military actions around Japan pose an unprecedented and greatest strategic challenge not only to Japan's peace and security, but also to the peace and stability of the entire international community."

1. Criticize China by name directly.

2. Accuse China of threatening Japan's peace and security.

3. It is also claimed that China is the biggest strategic challenge to world peace and stability.

"Japan is too much!"

Xinhua News Agency never expected why Japan suddenly changed its face? Its ignorance, ignorance, arrogance and arrogance are obvious. In modern history, half of the time between China and Japan, the Japanese were regarded as the big gray wolf. During the Sino-Japanese War, Japan's GDP was only one-eighth of that of China! When will Tianchao put Little Japan in his eyes? But Japan destroyed the Beiyang Water Division. Today's ignorance, ignorance, arrogance and arrogance far exceed that of the Qing Dynasty, and Japan has entered a modern society and is regarded as an ally by the United States and Europe. The status of both sides is exactly the same as that of a hundred years ago.

China is now allied with Russia, but at that time, it was nearly 200,000 Russian troops who took the "eight-nation alliance" to enter the capital, went south to seize, and relied on the northeast to not leave. The former only demanded a claim, while the Russian army wanted to swallow Manchuria. Daqing had no choice but to keep a low profile and ask for Little Japan. After brutal land and sea battles, nearly 200,000 Japanese soldiers died, and finally won the Russo-Japanese War. The collapse of the Russian Empire created the first example of Asian countries defeating European countries. After the war, Japan gained control of South Manchurian and established rule over North Korea. The leased land of Kanto and the section south of Changchun of the Eastern Qing Railway were controlled by Japan, and the Kwantung Army began to be stationed in Manchuria.

Chiang Kai-shek of the National Government also had a Chinese dream. He began to disrecognize the Japanese-Qing Dynasty Treaty, but if the Japanese soldiers did not do it, how could he kill and injure 200,000 yuan for nothing? It eventually evolved into the 9/18 Incident and later the full-scale War of Resistance Against Japanese Aggression. The war was cruel. The Communist Party of China said that he defeated Little Japan. However, the South China Sea and Taiwan were both taken down by the United States and returned to the Republic of China.

The people's hatred for Japan came from the war that year, when many people lost their lives and homes. In the past few years in the mainland, a large number of anti-Japanese "magic dramas" have sold well, thinking that Little Japan is no longer an opponent. The island chain that keeps hanging on the mouth has also been stuck on the paper. Now everything has come true: Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, the Philippines, Australia and India have gathered into a big circle. Rely on Russia? It was surrounded by the whole of Europe. It's really cool to play with the United States!

Xi Jinping's mysterious chess game is really good.

岸田文雄：中国是全球和平稳定最严峻挑战

2024.04.11 13:11 ET

正在华盛顿访问的日本首相岸田文雄出席美国国会参众两院联席会议，并发表演说。

Attached is a news briefing:

On April 11, 2024, Japanese Prime Minister Fumio Kishita, who is visiting Washington, attended the joint meeting of the Senate and House of Representatives of the U.S. Congress and delivered a speech on the U.S.-Japan alliance, regional and global threats. Kishida is the second Japanese prime minister to be invited to speak in the U.S. Congress after Shinzo Abe, and promised to donate cherry blossoms again, planted in Washington, D.C., to celebrate the 250th anniversary of the founding of the United States.

In the conversation, Kishida listed the threats of China, North Korea, Russia and other countries. In response to China, Kishida said: "China's current foreign stance and military actions constitute the unprecedented and most serious strategic challenge, not only for the peace and security of Japan, but also for the peace and stability of the entire international community." As China's challenges continue, he stressed that Japan's commitment to maintain peace and a free and open international order based on the rule of law, and will continue to make this the focus of future policies.

Kishida also mentioned the new form of oppression facing the world at present. Although he did not directly name China, he pointed out that digital technology is used to suppress freedom, social media is under censorship, monitoring and control, economic coercion and so-called "debt diplomacy" are increasing, and the country's foreign economic dependence is exploited and weaponized.

With the change of the geopolitical situation, Kishida pointed out that Japan is broadening its horizons from a regional partner of the United States to a global partner. "Our relationship (the United States and Japan) has never been closer than it is now, and our vision and practices have never been as united as it is now." He stressed that Japan takes seriously the role of being the closest ally of the United States. The United States and Japan jointly shoulder great responsibilities, which is crucial to peace, freedom and prosperity. In addition to all kinds of high-tech, including space exploration and other 70 cooperations, Japan firmly believes in the leadership of the United States, vows to stand shoulder to shoulder with the United States, meet all unprecedented and great challenges, and become the most staunch long-term partner of the United States.

Kishida and Biden held talks for about 2 hours on the 10th and finalized about 70 defense cooperation agreements, with the theme of peace and stability in the South China Sea, the East China Sea and Taiwan and other Indo-Trea regions, to prevent the threat of China's expansion and oppose any attempt to unilateral force coercion and change the status quo. The Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs (11) responded in a sly-Japanese response, criticizing the position of the United States and Japan to slander and attack China's issues in Taiwan and the South China Sea, seriously interfering with China's internal affairs and violating the convention of international relations between governments. At a regular press conference, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Mao Ning criticized the United States and Japan for ignoring China's strong warning, slandering and attacking China's position on the sovereignty of Taiwan and the South China Sea, seriously interfering in China's internal affairs and violating the basic norms of international relations.
